

Photographic Sales Specialist, Part-time, Burnaby

Do you love photography?

Would you like to help others to buy the best cameras & accessories for their needs?

Would you like discounts on your photo equipment?

Kerrisdale Cameras is a 3rd generation photo retail chain that opened in 1961. With 7 stores, we are #1 in BC and one of the three largest in Canada. While many in our industry have struggled in recent years, we are thriving as interest in photography is growing! Why are we doing so well? Because of our employees!

Our knowledgeable and friendly photographic sales specialists love photography and are dedicated to helping our customers select the best camera and photo equipment for their individual needs. Most of our specialists who joined us with years of professional photographic or photo retail experience, or are students or graduates of photographic programs. They love photography and stay up to date on the latest products and services. About 40% of our employees have been with us over 10 years.

We believe in honesty, integrity and respect in all our business relationships with our employees, customers and business associates so we look for employees who share the same high ethics. Our customers expect a high level of product knowledge and customer service so we're looking for just the right person to fill each of our positions. We're picky so we may take many weeks to fill a position....we won't settle for less than the best candidates to join our team!
